

SECRETREPORT NO.

50X1

50X1

COUNTRY Poland

DATE DISTR. 11 Feb. 1954

SUBJECT 1. Precision Instruments Factory, A-17
 2. Telephone Equipment Workshop Elmet
 3. Electrical Heating Equipment and
 Machines Factory, A-5

NO. OF PAGES 3

DATE OF INFORMATION

REFERENCES:

PLACE ACQUIRED

50X1

THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

SOURCE

50X1

The Precision Instruments Factory, A-17, Swiebodzice

50X1

1. The Precision Instruments Factory, A-17 (Zaklady Wytworzone Aparatury Precyzyjnej) was located in an inhabited area of Swiebodzice N 50-52, E 16-20. The exact location and layout are unknown .
2. The factory was under the control of the Central Administration of the Electrical Machine Industry, which was subordinate to the Ministry of Machine Industry.
3. The factory employed about 500 workers and produced in 1953: simple protection equipment, relays, overload switches, timers, indicators, laboratory sliding resistors, variacs (autotransformatory regulowane), and lighting equipment for theaters. production figures. All products were of low quality. 50X1
4. The chief designer was Eng. TYNDIUK, born about 1910, about 174 cm. tall, 72 kg. in weight, red hair, oval face, ruddy complexion with freckles, big nose, blue eyes. He was also an assistant at the Polytechnic University in Wroclaw, where he instructed once a week. He came from Lwow, where he received his degree in engineering in 1937 at the Lwow Polytechnic University.

--- SECRET ---

SECRET
-2-

Telephone Equipment Workshop Elmet in Warsaw

5. The Telephone Equipment Workshop Elmet (Wytownia Teletechniczna Elmet) was located in the back yard of 7 Kacza Street in Warsaw, in a very old three-story brick building. There was also a branch at 18 Markowska Street in the former state mint. The layout of the workshop is unknown [redacted] 50X1
6. The enterprise was a private one taken over in 1953 by the Ministry of Public Security (MBP) and was under the direction of Eng. JURYS, who in 1953 was released from prison after serving a sentence for speculation. An employee of the Communications Department in the Ministry of Public Security, SZMACINSKI, controlled the workshop and issued orders on behalf of the Ministry. [redacted] a foreman, KONAT, was transferred [redacted] to Elmet. 50X1
The workshop employed about 30 men.
7. The workshop produced plugs, sockets, Kellog-type switches, and small switchboards in limited quantities. The whole production was for the Ministry of Public Security. The branch at Markowska Street, in addition to production of certain items, fitted telephone relays.

Electrical Heating Equipment and Machines Factory, A-5, Warsaw

8. The Electrical Heating Equipment and Machines Factory, A-5 (Zakłady Wytworcze Urzadzen i Aparatury Grzejnej) was located at 306/308 Grochowska Street in Warsaw /see Annex A/. It was formerly known as Fabryka Armatury Elektrycznej Bracia Borkowsky, "Brabork". 50X1
9. The layout of the factory is unknown [redacted] It was located on the corner of Terespolska and Grochowska Streets in a densely populated area.
10. The factory was under the control of the Central Administration of the Electrical Machine Industry, which was subordinate to the Ministry of Machine Industry.
11. [redacted] in 1953 the factory produced electrical machines, medium-size motors and generators of 0.5 to 50 KW. The production was based partly on Russian patents. [redacted] the factory no longer produced heating equipment. [redacted] know production figures. The factory was poorly equipped with measuring instruments. 50X1
50X1
12. The factory employed more than 500 men. [redacted] Eng. PUSTOLA, who was discharged in [redacted] this factory was visited in [redacted] by experts from USSR. 50X1
50X1
13. The factory received electricity from the grid and had one transformer station in the factory. Transportation of goods and material to and from the factory was by truck. [redacted] no further information. 50X1

ANNEX:

- A. Memory Sketch of Location of Electrical Heating Equipment and Machines Factory, A-5, Warsaw

SECRET

SECRET
-3-

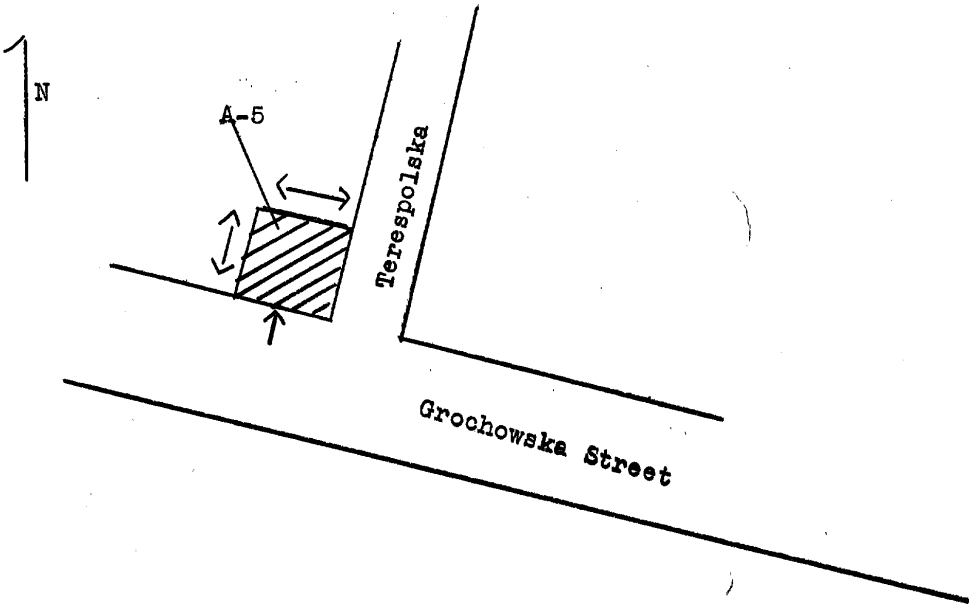

50X1

50X1

ANNEX A:  Sketch of the Location of Electrical Heating Equipment and Machines Factory, A-5, Warsaw

(Not to scale)

SECRET